WE extend your potential

About us

Our history

Workforce Extensions was established in 1997 by founder, Andrew Hibgame. From a humble beginning the business grew significantly and it became apparent that the reason for the company's success was founded on superior service to our customers.

To recognise the hard work of the local teams key staff were invited to buy into the business and franchised the offices to the office managers. This saw the birth of our franchising program.

In our 25 years of operation, WE continue to invest and support a growing network of offices, all our offices are owned and operated by passionate franchisees who provide casual, temporary and permanent personnel to many industries across Australia.

Our difference

With over 25 years' experience and a robust national network of local owner-operators, WE can offer proven staffing solutions.

Our national network of professional offices is owned by passionate franchisees, who support their local communities. They foster employment and economic growth in these communities across Australia.

Technology and Systems

WE are planning for the future - with technology and service delivery investments, WE are making it easier to manage your workforce for better outcomes.

For optimal work-flow efficiency, Workforce Extensions franchisees utilise a wide range of digital systems to streamline candidate management, on-boarding and reference checking as well as comprehensive payroll and billing systems.

This is how WE extend your potential.

As a client or candidate you are receiving the best of everything, you are able to receive the best customer service from a locally owned and operated business, whilst being supported by a national office.

With us you'll always get:

- Local knowledge
- Passionate team members
- Personalised and reliable service
- Prompt responses to all requests
- Ethical and safety focused operations

WE strive to be:

WE listen to understand our customers' needs and take prompt action to meet them.

WE do what we say we are going to do. Our clients will have confidence in our professional and consistent approach.

WE are approachable and work together. With constructive communication and action, we will achieve better outcomes.

WE seek ways to positively contribute to the community and proactively manage safety, risk and compliance with integrity.

WE continuously seek to improve what we do and innovate, bringing a sense of curiosity to explore what's possible.

WE hold ourselves accountable to a high standard of work in every aspect of our role.

Workforce Extensions | Parramatta

Workforce Extensions Parramatta delivers tailored temporary, contract, and permanent recruitment solutions to businesses of all sizes - from local enterprises to national organisations. While we maintain strong roots within our local market, our reach and capability extend across Australia, allowing us to support clients with consistency, scalability, and a truly national talent network.

We partner with organisations across a broad range of industries, providing end-to-end workforce solutions spanning both blue- and white-collar environments. Within the blue-collar sector, we support manufacturing, construction, warehousing, logistics, and industrial operations- supplying skilled and reliable talent including machine operators, labourers, forklift drivers, pick packers, trades assistants, and site-based personnel.

Complementing this, our white-collar recruitment capability covers administration, customer service, and professional roles through to corporate functions and executive leadership. We work across disciplines such as finance, HR, sales, operations, and senior leadership, delivering high-calibre candidates from entry-level through to C-suite appointments.

With extensive industry experience and a hands-on approach, our team understands the evolving demands of today's workforce. We combine deep market insight, established talent pipelines, and a practical understanding of business needs to deliver candidates who are not only qualified, but ready to add value from day one.

Professional Recruitment

At Workforce Extensions Parramatta, we combine genuine local expertise with the strength of a nationally established network. We understand the employment landscape because we're part of it – connected to the businesses, industries and people who keep it moving.

For us, recruitment isn't about ticking boxes or filling roles. It's about building long-term partnerships, understanding what drives our clients and candidates, and delivering outcomes that genuinely make an impact. We take the time to know your goals, your culture and your story – because the right placement should feel like progress, not just a transaction.

Whether you're growing your team or taking the next step in your career, our commitment is simple: professional service, honest communication and results you can rely on. At Workforce Extensions Parramatta, we don't just place people – we help build futures.

About Workforce Extensions

As part of Australia's leading owner-operated labour hire and recruitment agency network, Workforce Extensions Parramatta offers a unique model: personalised, relationship-driven service at a local level, backed by the infrastructure, systems, and national support of a broader organisation. This ensures our clients receive dedicated, proactive service alongside the scale and capability required to support multi-site and national workforce strategies.

National Office Management Team

Nigel Ashton Director

Nigel is a business owner and investor with a diverse portfolio of interests including commercial property, healthcare, bio-energy, early stage tech innovation and labour hire. He spent 13 years working in banking and finance roles in London and New York and a further 10 years working in Australia as a Director and investor. Underpinned by a Master's degree in Information Technology, Nigel ensures that the Workforce Extensions tech, IT, systems and compliance offering benefits the network and their customers.

Matthew Crewe Chief Operating Officer

Matt is a highly driven and inclusive leader who enjoys nothing more than working as part of a team to achieve great results. His work history includes Operational Leadership, Sales & Business Development and Financial Accounting roles, and this diverse experience has seen Matt develop extensive knowledge across all aspects of a successful business including labour hire and healthcare recruitment. A self-proclaimed addict of continuous improvement, Matt is always looking for ways to improve including the use of automation and AI.

Ronak Modi Finance and Payroll Manager

Ronak holds a unique understanding of the company's financial landscape, which he has developed in his progression across multiple roles since his early days. With a proven track record in financial analysis, automation, reporting, and process improvement, he is committed to driving strategic growth and providing unprecedented transparency to key stakeholders. In his leadership role, Ronak oversees the finance team, covering payroll, accounts payable, receivables, and broader accounting functions. His experience continues to be instrumental in supporting the company's national network expansion and providing deeper insights for key decision-making at every level.

Kylie Wickert Operations Support Manager

Kylie has over 20 years' experience across multiple facets within the recruitment industry, ranging from leadership roles for businesses within a start-up operation to managing branches with well-established multinational recruitment organisations. More recently, Kylie has worked closely with Senior Management teams as an Operations Support Manager, responsible for leading various software implementation and process improvement projects to build capability and improve efficiencies across all areas of recruitment and business operations.
